

The 5th Jc-IFTToMM International Symposium

in conjunction with
The 28th Jc-IFTToMM Symposium on Theory of Machines and Mechanisms

The aim of this international symposium is to provide an excellent opportunity for researchers and engineers actively working in the IFTToMM fields to engage in active discussions and to deepen their friendship. This 5th international symposium is held by Japanese Council of IFTToMM (Jc-IFTToMM), in conjunction with a Japanese domestic event, the 28th Jc-IFTToMM Symposium on Theory of Machines and Mechanisms, at the Japanese historic city of Kyoto. This one-day compact event will be a good opportunity for interaction. We look forward to welcoming participation from around the world.

Topics

- Robotics and Mechatronics
- Linkages and Mechanical Controls
- Computational Kinematics
- Multibody Dynamics
- Gearing and Transmissions
- Tribology
- Vibrations
- Rotordynamics
- Micromachines
- Biomechanical Engineering
- Engines and Powertrains
- Sustainable Energy Systems
- Transportation Machinery
- Reliability
- Securing Future Environment
